

Associated Oregon Loggers

Exclusive Coverage for Members

Rewarding Members

For more than 50 years, Liberty Mutual Insurance has been supporting the specialized needs of Oregon loggers. Since 1992, we've offered an exclusive group dividend program to eligible Associated Oregon Loggers (AOL) members.

How the Dividend Program Works

As a member in good standing of the Associated Oregon Loggers, and you have an AOL endorsement on your policy:

- It pays for you to maintain safe business practices and reduce loss exposures, because the total dividend pool depends in part on the loss experience and earned premium for all AOL member policies during a given dividend year.
- You earn a dividend when the AOL program qualifies during the dividend period.
- If a dividend should be declared, participants receive an equal percentage share based on individual account earned premium.

Coverage Options

We've earned the endorsement of AOL because of our industry-leading expertise and superior coverage for Oregon logging operations. Talk with an agent to learn how to maximize your coverage—and your dividend—with the following coverage options:

Broad Form Liability Coverage

- Low $250 deductible for physical damage liability claims.
- Extends liability coverage to include the forest and land where you perform logging operations.
- Extends coverage if you accidentally cut down the wrong trees or cause a forest fire, including fire suppression costs.

Commercial Auto

- The lowest deductible is waived when two or more apply to the same loss.
- Physical damage coverage up to $50,000 may extend to rental trucks.
- All repairs performed through our vendor network are guaranteed as long as you own the vehicle.

Commercial Umbrella*

- Protect your current and future assets from a lawsuit.
- Additional liability coverage from $1 million to $5 million or more.
- Coverage is broader than the primary policy.

Since the program's inception, we've distributed more than $3.5 million in dividends among qualifying AOL members.
